

Basic Reinsurance Online

August 3-10, 2009 • November 9-16, 2009

If Facultative, Quota Share, Unauthorized, Credit for Reinsurance, and the 9-month Rule are unfamiliar terms for you, then plan to enroll in Basic Reinsurance Online. Upon completing this one-week online course, you will understand these terms, as well as come away with an overall better understanding of reinsurance, the role it plays, and why it is needed in the insurance market.

This course is open to state insurance regulators, other government employees, and members of the insurance industry. It is geared to those with little-to-no understanding of reinsurance.

Learning Objectives:

- Identify the purposes served by reinsurance
- Differentiate between authorized and unauthorized reinsurance
- Understand reinsurance markets
- Understand the forms & types of reinsurance
- Explain the Credit for Reinsurance
- Identify the types of clauses generally found in a contract
- Determine when risk transfer has occurred
- Understand Annual Statement reporting
- Cite current issues surrounding reinsurance

This is an NAIC Designation Course!

The Basic Reinsurance Online course is an Insurance Regulator Professional Designation Program course. NAIC's Designation Program is an exciting program designed by regulators for regulators so that critical concepts and skills can be acquired directly from the NAIC. Designation candidates enjoy many benefits, including the ability to build their own structured professional development path within the Designation framework and access to the best courses on regulatory topics out there. To learn more and to enroll in the Designation Program, visit the NAIC Designation Website: http://www.naic.org/education_designation.htm.

The Designation Program is for regulators only.

What others have said:

- The course was very informative and was easily adaptable as an introduction or a refresher.
- This course will definitely aid in my ability to understand the reinsurance contracts that my companies participate in. It should make my review of these companies more meaningful, and I can provide better documentation in my analysis.

Tuition

- $295 for State/U.S. government employees
- $595 for all others

Tuition includes comprehensive course materials, password access to the course, assistance from course facilitators, a 24/7 Help Desk for technical problems, continuing education materials (upon request and successful completion), and the opportunity to learn and connect with others from across the country.

About Learning Online

Plan to spend at least two hours a day on this course. Online courses offer great flexibility but also require self-motivation, commitment, good time management skills, and space in which to study. So be sure to plan accordingly. At www.naiconline.org, you'll find a short quiz to help you decide if learning online is the right fit for you. At this website, you'll also be able to check the technical requirements for your PC or laptop. Note: RealPlayer, a free download, is required to listen to the lectures in our courses. The week preceding the course, you will receive materials, including the Handbook for Distance Learners, sent to the mailing address you supply on the registration form.

Continuing Education

Continuing education materials are sent upon request and based on successful completion of the course (refer to course syllabus for completion requirements). Six (6) hours will be listed on continuing education materials for this one-week online course.

Cancellations

Withdrawals for full refund are permitted up to three weeks before the beginning date of the course; cancellations after this date will result in no refund. Notification of cancellation must be received in writing. If issued, refunds will be mailed after the completion of the course. Substitutions are accepted up to one week before the course begins.

REGISTER online at www.naic.org/education_home.htm or complete and return the registration form below by July 13 for the first session or October 19 for the second session. Space is limited so you are encouraged to register early. You will be contacted via e-mail with confirmation of your registration, your password, and login information.
