

National Association of Insurance Commissioners

5 Special Sessions, 5 Dynamic Days

Whether arriving by train, plane, automobile — or even cable car — you'll want to join us at the Winter National Meeting.

In addition to 60+ regular-session meetings, five special sessions will highlight several timely and topical insurance-related issues. This will be the one meeting you do not want to miss!

Perspectives on Systemic Risk

Thursday, Dec. 3

Sponsored by The Center for Insurance Policy and Research, a panel of experts will discuss aspects of systemic risk in insurance and its regulation, including its pros and cons, plus the concept of “too big to fail.”

Health Care Reform Update

Friday, Dec. 4

During this public hearing, the NAIC will receive testimony from experts and various stakeholders about key implementation issues that could arise should health care reform be enacted by year-end.

Residential Mortgage-Backed Securities Briefing

Monday, Dec. 7

This briefing will provide an overview of what insurance companies need to know if state insurance regulators decide to bypass the traditional providers' ratings and use an analytical firm to determine the value of deteriorated holdings on insurers' books.

Earthquake Education Event

Tuesday, Dec. 8

Experts will discuss current issues and challenges in earthquake mitigation and how to motivate the public to take action and prepare before an earthquake strikes.

Climate Change Risk Summit

Wednesday, Dec. 9

This Summit will allow regulators, scientists, modelers, industry and the general public to collaborate and explore climate-related topics.

Register by November 9th and save $100 over on-site registration!
